It's...and I'll just read it. If this limited local delivery area is redefined to a maximum of 50 miles into another state, it is anticipated the fiscal impact to the Department of Roads from lost revenue would be minimal.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: Well, Senator, is that reflected now in a fiscal note?

SENATOR ENGEL: No, we didn't get a fiscal note with this.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: So we don't have the impact quantified?

SENATOR ENGEL: Right, just this letter from them.

SENATOR WICKERSHAM: Okay. Well, mister...members of the body, superficially, what Senator Engel is bringing to you is something that sounds reasonable. But this bill started out at a 15 mile limitation. If this limitation continues to expand, someone won't stand up on this floor and say it has a minimal revenue impact on the Highway Trust Fund. It was never the intention of the Revenue Committee to allow this bill to come to the floor and have the borders, the parameters for this kind of a contract be extended to a point where it would even potentially impact the Highway Trust Fund. The Highway Trust Fund is the reason you have decent roads in this state, and the reason that roads are improving. Now we don't want to be in the business of impairing or impeding what would be deemed to be normal, commercial activities. But this is an area that I think we ought to be a little bit more careful about than just an amendment on Select File and a letter from the Department of Motor Vehicles saying that they think it will have a minimal impact. The Revenue Committee was comfortable putting this bill out at 15 miles. But 50 miles is different. And the next time somebody brings an amendment and it's 100 miles, or it's 150 miles, or it's 300 miles, it's going to start having an impact. I'll tell you frankly I'm not...I don't...I have sympathy for what Senator Smith is trying to do, but I would hope that the body would not do this on Select File. And I hope that we would not do this without a little bit further analysis. If Senator Smith wants to introduce a bill next year and extend this boundary, and we can examine the potential impact, fine. I don't think this is appropriate for Select File, that isn't the
